

The central way to get help and otherwise communicate with others involved in the project is to subscribe to our discussion group titled "Presbyterysite-users" here .

Once you've installed Joomla, you'll need to learn the basics of how to use it. We've outlined how to add new content & new menu items in our Joomla 'how to' page. Please refer to Joomla's documentation for help on Joomla features not covered here.

Basic PresbyterySite usage is described in our screenshots page, in the README.TXT included in the download, and in the information PresbyterySite gives you after installing each of its components.

We welcome feature requests (and contracts to implement them), interested developers, and any discussion of PresbyterySite on our S
